Karunaakara Tyagarajuni

O Raghurama! You are the omnipresent Prop ("Neevu") of the sprawling ("ella") world ("bhuvana"). Will protecting ("Brova") this frail ("nann Okkani") Tyagaraja prove an intolerable burden ("Bhaaramaa?") on you and tax you?

Sri Vasudeva! Have you not absorbed and preserved ("yunchukoleda") the entire cosmos ("kukshini") within your stomach ("Andakotla")?

Did you not kindly ("dayato") to support the Mandara mountain under the ocean on behalf of the celestial ("Namarulakai") during the churning of the ocean ("kalashambudhilo") for nectar? And did you not ("leda") lift ("Letta") the Govardhana hill ("konda") to protect Gopis and cows. Ocean of mercy!
